

Think ENGINEERING

Difference makers. Stereotype breakers.

Monika

McMaster Engineering
PhD software student

Her research: Improving computer code for next generation hybrid vehicles

Engineers of the future must meet the grand challenges facing our planet from improving water quality to eradicating disease to building the next generation vehicle.

At McMaster Engineering, we inspire engaged citizen scholars who will transform the world.

Our leading faculty and students are discovering innovative solutions to global problems today and preparing the leaders of tomorrow.
